

2021 IAMUS Program: Call for Participants

Alexandria, EGYPT, October 27 - 28

Summary:

The International Association of Maritime Universities Students (IAMUS) workshop is a part of the IAMU AGA21 intended for students from IAMU member universities to present their work. It is an opportunity for students to participate in maritime education and training related activities, meet and exchange ideas with students from other institutions, and meet different industry members and experience other cultures. Kobe University will send two students to the conference in Egypt. See below for details on how to apply.

Information:

Students who want to participate should submit an abstract (maximum 450 words) that clearly explains the content and relevance of the paper. The abstract should also contain:

Title of the paper, Student name(s) and email addresses, Name of university, and up to 6-7 keywords relevant to the paper topic

IAMUS Theme:

Challenges of new technology and IT applications in international maritime industry

How to apply:

First, Kindly find the Instructions for Preparation of IAMUS Abstracts on the IAMU AGA21 website (<https://aga21.aast.edu/en/home>).

Do not submit your application to IAMU. Instead:

Please send your abstract to Prof. Matthew Rooks (rooks@maritime.kobe-u.ac.jp) by March 8.

Notification will be sent to successful applicants shortly afterwards, and final abstract submission will be sent to IAMUS on March 15th, and the presentation submission due June 15th.

Please ask Prof. Matthew Rooks if you have questions related to IAMUS or IAMU.
