

2023 IAMUS Program: Call for Participants

Satakunta University of Applied Sciences, FINLAND, October 18 - 21

Summary:

The International Association of Maritime Universities Students (IAMUS) program is a part of the IAMU AGA23 intended for students from IAMU member universities to present their work. It is an opportunity for students to participate in maritime education and training related activities, meet and exchange ideas with students and staff from other institutions, and meet different industry members and experience other cultures. Kobe University will send two students to the program in Finland. See below for details on how to apply.

Information:

Students who want to participate should submit an abstract (minimum 400 words, maximum two A4 pages) that clearly explains the content and relevance of the paper. The abstract should also contain:

Title of the paper, Student name(s) and email addresses, Name of university, and up to 6-7 keywords relevant to the paper topic

Possible Topics:

- Maritime education and training (MET)
- Maritime English
- Breakthrough Technologies in Seafaring
- Culture and communication in maritime industry
- Maritime Safety and Security
- Maritime business & logistics topics
- Environmental Sustainability in Seafaring
- Other maritime-related topics

How to apply:

Please send your abstract to Prof. Matthew Rooks (rooks@maritime.kobe-u.ac.jp) by March 8.

Do not submit your abstract to IAMUS unless you have been selected by the IAMU 部会.

Notification will be sent to successful applicants by March 13, and presentation abstracts will finally be sent to IAMUS by March 15. Accepted students can also submit a Full paper to the IAMUS proceedings (due May 1). Please see the IAMU AGA23 website for further details:
